"Thank you... we'll keep you informed"

After her 34th job interview Lisa, left widowed with debts to pay and two kids to care for, learned one important thing: to obtain a job you have to have no children! Thanks to this lie, Lisa will become an apprentice at Enrico Vinci's law firm. Undercover mom at work, will Lisa manage to keep her secret and conduct her double life without forgetting who she really is?

Undercover Mom is a brilliant comedy set in the beautiful city of Naples, packed with many exhilarating characters. There are men and women, both young and old, business professionals and busy housewives, great contradictions about the people we meet in every-day life, the personification of the alternative route we decided not to take.
